Southwide Program Will Fight Fire Ants

A coordinated southwide fire ant eradication program has been endorsed by agricultural leaders from 12 Southern States.

This vicious and damaging insect now infests 120 million acres in 9 states, including 37 counties in Texas. They have increased their range eight-fold in the past 20 years. They continue to move steadily west and north from the Southeast Texas area, noted Reed Green, Extension survey entomologist.

The proposed program would cover a 12-year period under Federal-State cost sharing and utilize Mirex bait, a slow-acting non-persistent chemical impregnated into cornmeal grits. Ants carry the tiny granules into the mound where they are consumed, killing the entire colony.

Green said the bait is a relatively safe insecticide having very low toxicity to mammals.

Use ZIP Codes, Postmaster Says

Mail without ZIP codes is being delayed, according to Cameron Postmaster Narvie L. Caperton. Caperton calls on local post office patrons to use the ZIP Code on all their mail.

"Use ZIP Codes if you have them," the Postmaster said, "and if you don't have them, a ZIP Code book is available in the post office lobby. If you need only a few numbers call the post office."

ZIP Code lists should be kept up to date so numbers are handy for letters or parcels, Caperton added.

"The help that Cameron postal patrons have given in the past is greatly appreciated," he said. "Your continued use of the ZIP Code numbers will surely help us to speed your mail to its destination."

They Are One...

A decade ago, only a few of about 25 people creating your Herald had ever seen the inside of a newspaper. Now, in that colloquial sense, "they are one."

If all goes well, they soon are joining talents in a new news event of The Cameron Herald itself.

These two dozen daily contribute a spectrum of talent for more than 1,000 square miles of readership.

Largely due to their efforts, your Herald is being honored this year in an invitation to its editor - publisher to contribute a feature on U.S. newspapers to the Alumni News, School of Journalism, University of Missouri.

Without this broad talent, there would be no such invitation.

Your Herald staff is attempting to serve you, the modern reader, regardless of age or interest, when you are more erudite than you suppose. Your Herald staff tries to serve your public and private interest.

The "very local" is your correspondents, now in two categories: rural and small community.

Half serve purely rural readership: Mrs. Leroy Guillote, Mrs. J. P. Wise, Mrs. Ralph Heish, Mrs. J. A. Blasiens, and Mrs. Bill Thweatt.

The other half write in communities with identifiable boundaries and modern problems: Mrs. Gerald Foshee, Burlington; Mrs. Wanda Lee, Gause; Mrs. Edwin Gandy, Buckholts; Mrs. Billy Warren, Milano; and B. F. Harbour, Rogers.

They give Herald news a base, most of which is changing. Herald staff in Cameron incorporates these 10 reports with Cameron and Milam-level news, touching every aspect of public and private interest.

Milam's agriculture base draws specialist treatment: County Agent J. D.

Moore on modern techniques, assistant Fred Schuetze on county youth, ASCS's Alva Sanders on government ag programs, conservationist Wayne Mann on soil and water, Christine Laws on home economics.

Other professionals inform you through features like "The Family Lawyer," "Dateline Austin," "Mental Health," "Diplomatic Pouch" and "Ask IRS."

Artists and cartoonists catch the eye of youth and wisdom with editorial cartoons, "Tiny Turtle" in "Tiny Herald", "Lonely Heart" and "Out of Orbit", for example.

A new Herald feature "Question", the grammatical "You Don't Say", school's "Doors of Yoe" and "Old Philosopher" range finer and wider.

Statistical and logistical columns like an auction report, school menu, bowling news, "Weather Notes" and "Court-house News" itemize events and specifics of yet a different nature. Births, like obituaries, are standard fare.

Condensation of reports from your congressman, state senator and representative reaches you during legislative session.

News editor Bess Jeter organizes this complex, columnist Jane Callaway and feature editor Lloyd Albertson lend perspective, social editor Jan Luecke styles it, and photographer Charles Brady illustrates what artists have not.

Adman George Jones and production supervisor Calvin Kraemer create the metal print and picture assisted by still others.

Your readership is rewarded each issue by these talents.

And your Herald works on even greater possibilities to serve you, the Milam reader.

What Others Say...

Small Troubles...

There is no gainsaying that the admission to the United Nations of tiny countries, some of which are unable even to afford a fulltime representative to that body, is an exercise in political fantasy. It is also a logistical nuisance to provide enough flagpoles, seats and all the rest.

So, delicate matter or not, the State Department's move to put the matter of creating a United Nations "associate membership" up for discussion is worth a try.

It is ludicrous that the Maldive Islands, population 97,000, should have been admitted to full United Nations membership. It is even more fantastic that the Island of Nauru, population 4,914, should be talked of as a prospective member.

All the same, Maldive has been pretty quiet. Fairness compels the observation that most of United Nations troubles are not made by its midjet members.

Status In Doubt For 100 'Fraternal Organizations'

By Vern Sanford

AUSTIN
More than 100 "fraternal organizations" are being requested by Secretary of State Martin Dies Jr. to swear that they are in fact fraternal organizations and not just "private clubs."

He says applications are coming in from "fraternities" that evidently are "private clubs" and if they are approved it will make a mockery of the five cent tax per drink requirement set by the Legislature on private clubs.

Texas Law provides that fraternal organizations are exempt from franchise taxes.

Among the "fraternal organizations" presently being asked to confirm their status are the Benevolent Order of the Impala of Texas, Club L'Amour Fraternal Association, Inc., the Fraternal Order of Moon Maidens, The Fraternal Order of Dart Players and the Fraternal Order for the Preservation and Resurrection of Burlesque.

If an organization refuses to answer the questionnaire within 30 days, it faces dissolution. Answering the questions falsely means possible perjury charges.

WELFARE BENEFITS

According to Welfare Commissioner Burton Hackney, 509 Texas families may be affected by a San Antonio Federal court ruling requiring the State Department of Public Welfare to pay retroactive welfare benefits not paid since March under the now defunct one-year residency requirement.

Hackney said that if the department had to pay off all the back benefits, it would average about $75 a recipient per month for that six month period. And, if all applicants on the list were qualified, this would exceed $250,000. However, he stressed that some of the applicants would be disqualified for other reasons. He said no appeal of the decision was being planned.

Also, Hackney has asked the Texas Medical Association to help his department settle questions of "misuse" or "over-utilization" of Medicaid services and benefits.

USED CAR WARNING

Texas automobile buyers have been warned against purchasing so-called "bargain" autos now being offered for sale in South and East Texas.

H. C. Pittman, executive vice-president of the Texas Automobile Dealers Association, says many of these cars were "severely damaged by salt water submergence during the frightful ravages of Hurricane Camille in Mississippi and neighboring states" in August.

"The same sort of fraud on the car-buying public occurs following almost every hurricane in the Gulf Coast area," he pointed out, urging used car buyers to check the bill of sale to determine the origin of the vehicles.

ATTORNEY GENERAL RULES

An employee of a county or hospital district does not have to be a resident of the county, the district, or even the state, says Atty. Gen. Crawford C. Martin, in a new opinion.

In other recent expressions Martin held that:

-Condemnor in a condemnation case should pay the initial court-cost-deposit when objections are filed by either party to a special commission award. He may recover if the county court judgment is for the same or a lesser amount of damages than offered before proceedings commenced.

Valley cable TV company which sponsors a bingo-type game over its facilities is not engaged in a for-bidden lottery.

Changes in an individual holding of a wine and beer "on premise" license must be reflected on the license or permit, showing name and photograph.

COURTS SPEAK
A Supreme Court hearing has been set for November 26 on Mobil Oil Corporation's suit to get back $356,093 in gas production taxes paid under protest since 1965.

Same court has held that Wilson Radio Dispatch, with offices in McAllen, Brownsville, Harlingen and Rincon Camp, owes the state more than $10,000 in back taxes from its car - telephone service.

OLD PHILOSOPHER

Dear editor:

According to an article I read in a newspaper which somebody left in a cafe in town and which I picked up and brought home with me to offset the high cost of a cup of coffee, running for office has become so expensive it's now out of hand, a man without any money and with no rich friends hasn't got a chance, and a bunch of Congressmen are proposing to do something about it.

According to them, it takes from 10 to 15 million dollars to run for President, win or lose; at least a million to run for Senator, and from a million on down for Governor, depending on which state you're running in. Naturally a governor of say desert-swept Nevada wouldn't cost as much as a governor of Texas.

Most of the cost, they said, goes for television and they have come up with a proposal.

Instead of candidates begging or borrowing from rich people and big corporations, with the best beggars or borrowers, or promises ers and obligators, getting the most television time the Federal government should buy up enough time everybody and let them speak free, this group argues.

Furthermore, so the government won't be wasting its money, the speeches should run on all networks and stations at the same time. No tuning out a political speech on one channel to see Gunsmoke on another. From watching tapes of their own speeches, most Congressmen know they couldn't compete with Festus Hagen, and a good many couldn't hold their own against a summer re-run.

Thus, the group argues, turn on your set and you'd have to listen to nothing but political speeches on a given night, and all candidates would thus have a fair shake.

I don't know whether this would improve democracy or not, but I know blamed well it'd ruin television.

Yours faithfully,
J. A.

campuses throughout this land. It seems difficult for the October 15 Moratorium to resolve any question for the man in combat. It may bring some people home sooner or keep others from going there.

It encourages North Viet policy of delay, further deterring any negotiation in Paris. It affects morale of American service personnel already there.

Vietnam is no different from any war. If it promised to be the last, the question of morality in war would attach. But a nation like the U. S. or Russia and emerging Red China, steals itself when it must and when it is able.

We are impressed that a generation of Americans, for the first time, has a minority vocal enough, audacious enough to cost American casualties and include some of that loss in a campus roll call justifying cries of "immorality" at the American government.

We want to disengage in Vietnam. A world power cannot walk out. The analogy of France's withdrawal from Indo-China and Algeria, so often made in justifying immediate withdrawal, will not stand.

France was a fifth-rate power following World War II. The French could ill afford to maintain colonies in Southeast Asia and North Africa simply because the home government was a shambles. Nineteenth Century colonialism ended with that war and 20th Century, communist colonialism, began.

Other Southeast Asian countries wonder at the potential power vacuum.

This vocal minority would see instant solution to any problem, the cities perhaps. "Spend the $20 billion annual Viet cost on the cities," such logic suggests, "and the problems end."

Would that war and overcrowding could. Strangely, however, they never have. Such is not ended like the closing of a chapter or a back cover in a history or economics book.

The Moratorium October 15 dramatizes the U. S. dilemma, which we would now say is President Nixon's. Just a year ago, it was called President Johnson's. And he is gone from the White House.

The Moratorium dramatizes this is our war; it cannot be won or lost abruptly nor can it be won or lost gracefully.

The Moratorium seems to say "we have lost and must leave." It really raises anew the question of national purpose in a climate of international responsibility.

That is the question of the 1970's.

3 Parts Land, 1 Part Air Yoe 'Formula' Blanks East Texans, 27-0

Three parts land and one part air Saturday night proved the Yoe formula for amassing about 300 yards rushing in a 27-0 non-conference win over One-A Elkhart.

The relatively long trip to East Texas may have rested the tight-knit Yoemen halfbacks Emanuel Thomas and James Laury for touchdowns each and QB Robert Brashear's TD pass and sneak for a fourth score.

Elkhart only halved the Yoe effort of 22 first downs (Elkhart got 11), 209 yards rushing and 82 yards passing (Elkhart got 86 through the air).

Those Elk aerial yards came in the final minutes in a drive to the Yoe 6 as time ran out.

The other 40 minutes belonged to the Yoe.

A pass interception in the second quarter at the Elk 14 set up the first TD, linebacker John Bailey intercepting. Thomas crossed his right tackle and sprinted 14 yards on the first play to score. James Mueck's try for extra point was blocked. Cameron 6, Elkhart 0.

Laury set up the second score minutes later with a 41-yard run-back of a punt to the Elks' 40. Fullback John Steamer and his halfbacks alternated to the Elk 16 in seven plays. And Brashear threw a 16-yard TD pass to end Marvin Young and a two-pointer to Laury for the lead, Cameron, 14, Elkhart 0.

Following the half, the Yoemen drove 69 yards after kickoff before Laury went wide for the final six and the third touchdown. Thomas was stopped in a try for two points, scoring Cameron 20, Elkhart 0.

Brashear consumed about 5 minutes of the third quarter and a few seconds of the fourth in a 69-yard drive for the final TD.

Taking a punt at the Yoe 39, Brashear sent Steamer. Thomas and Laury in alternate cracks at the shaken Elk line, running 27 consecutive yards capped by Brashear's one-yard dive for the score.

Mueck's kick was good, Cameron 27, Elkhart 0, the final.

Steamer garnered 70 yards in 13 carries, Laury 58 in 13 and Thomas 45 yards in 14. Brashear completed seven passes in 19 attempts, balancing the Yoe air-ground attack.

Yoe defensivemen muted a weak Elkhart offense to a tune of 92 yards and 86 passing. The Elks penetrated the Yoe 20 only one time during the game, that in the final aerial drive.

No scoring occurred in the first quarter and defensive halfback Ken McLerran intercepted an Elk pass on the Yoe 22, returning 12 yards for Yoe control early in the second quarter. McLerran punted one of only three Yoe kicks of the evening to the Elk 9 after the Yoe offense faltered.

Then the formula began to work. Yoe have a 4-1 season, Elkhart 1-4.

Agronomist Tell Fertilizer Facts

By H. D. Moore
Fertilizers may be found in packages of the value of the nitrogen fertilizer they are using because of its availability, says Dr. H. D. Moore, county agronomist.

Dr. Moore discussed "Time and Method" of fertilizer application at the Rockdale and Cameron farm meetings last week. He used simple diagrams to show the importance of soil, time and conditions that affect or determine the ability of nitrogen fertilizer.

The nitrate nitrogen of the soil may go in four directions: (1) it may be used by micro organisms, (2) by higher plants, (3) it may be lost in drainage, and (4) it may be used by the nitrogen cycle in a volatile soil condition.

Dr. Moore explained the importance of the soil as being either acid or alkaline. He pointed out that the pH condition had quite an effect on the availability of phosphorus. The kind of phosphate that present varies with the pH of the soil solution.

Most of our broadcast crop have a pH rating up to an 8 degree.

At 7, complex available and available phosphorus are needed. Thus, the availability of both the active and applied phosphorus may be very seriously impaired. Thus, the availability of both the active and applied phosphorus may be very seriously impaired.

Previous county recommendations have been to apply the putting down of 12 to 15 pounds per acre of a 10-10-10 fertilizer with the seed. For County agronomist, Dr. Moore, excessive nitrogen could prevent seed germination.

Just prior to planting or at planting time is the critical time for the application of less of fertilizer. However, nitrogen can well be used as an additive after the crop is up and growing.

"Broadcast" is preferred over the "band" method of putting on fertilizer since the County agronomist has found that broadcast method works into a bed by rototilling, a greater distribution of fertilizer particles are present and a greater number of fertilizer particles are exposed to the soil for plant root contact.

Fertilizer facts presented at these meetings were of economic interest and in a way hoped to explain some of the erratic results obtained in grain crops.

Banks See Gains In Farm Lending

Exceptional gains registered in 1959 maintained the leadership of Texas banks among lenders providing credit and other financial services to the state's farmers and ranchers, according to Bert J. Henry of Dallas, president of the Texas Bankers Association.

Based on the 26th annual farm lending summary of the American Bankers Association, Agricultural Committee, Henry said that as 1959 opened, Texas banks were aiding farm and ranch customers with $285,225,000 in loans.

Included in this total were $22,225,000 in production and other types of loans not secured by real estate, a gain of 10 percent over the previous year and of 47 percent since 1956; also $163,000,000 in mortgage loans, up 10 percent for the year and 70 percent since 1956.

At the same time, $59,355,000 life insurance companies, plus a per cent, $967,070,000, by individuals and others, plus 7 percent, and $10,696,000 by the Farmers Home Administration, a 4 percent decline from the preceding year.

Chandler Ranch Sets Angus Sale

In one of the largest registered cattle sales ever held, the H. H. Chandler Ranch Angus herd will be dispersed Oct. 21 and 22 at the ranch at Sulphur Springs, 20 miles southeast of San Antonio. More than 1,200 lots of cattle will sell.

Practically all born and raised on the Chandler ranch, these are strictly grass cattle bred to utilize grass and live on pasture.

The Chandler ranch, 2,000 acres of irrigated Coastal Bermuda, has been sold with possession due Nov. 1, so the herd must be dispersed before that time. Tom Adams & Associates, San Antonio, will be sale managers.

The sale offering will include 600 cows with 240 calves at side, 210 head heifers, 57 open breeding cow heifers and 210 weaned yearling heifers. The 425 bulls include 10 two-year-olds and 419 three-year-olds.

Three-year-olds, 254 two-year-olds, 57 fresh weaners, up to yearlings, and 31 head bulls of various ages. Some 100 of the cows will sell with long breeding dates to three-quarter bred Brahmas, Redbreds and the calves will be eligible for Brahman crosses.

You Don't Say . . .
CUPOLA without some stumbling unless you've had reason to use it or are one of those fortunate persons who enjoy an evitable vocabulary.
CUPOLA (KEW puh lah) means a rounded roof: a small dome rising above the roof of a building.
Be sure of your pronunciation; poise and confidence will be your reward!

A Closer Walk With God Will Lead You Right Straight to Church

Here's the Answer

...deep rooted in God's Word... The Book.
When Sir Walter Scott lay dying—he called for The Book. The servant who best knew his library hesitated and asked, "Which Book?" Being the writer and reader of many books, Sir Walter said, "There is only one book for a dying man."
Is it not equally true for a living man? What book compares in value to aid us in better living? Do you try to find out what is your highest duty? Do you want guidance? Do you cherish peace of mind? Do you seek inspiration? Do you really want to know what life is for? This man holds The Source...
The Answer... The Divine Way.
Day by day let us enrich our minds, let us seek from the Bible, wisdom, and try to understand God's purpose for us in His World.
See you in church or Synagogue this week.

"Oh, Come, Let Us Sing Unto The Lord."—For There Is No Variableness In God's Cause Nor In His Justice . . . Then Come, Let Us Attend Our Church Or Synagogue This Week . . . This Word Of Invitation From Sponsors Of This Spiritual Values Page.

TO SETTLE ESTATE

Approximately 38 acre farm
In Buckholts - Corinth area.—One of the very few places on the market. The land is fenced and cross-fenced, has a large tank with a good pump. A four year old hollow tile house with vinyl floors, aluminum screens, and automatic vented wall heaters. A new butane tank. Adjoining the house is an old log cabin with fireplace—barns, corral and pens. This farm could be made into a real showplace. Very picturesque. Good dove hunting, and the tank is loaded with fish. (Pulled out a four pound bass last week).
